400 Years of Winemaking

Christian Hermann, at the helm since 2001, was born in 1980 in Traben, a small city in the middle Mosel of Germany. After attending Bernkastel-Kues University to study winemaking he worked for the legendary German producers - Dr Loosen, JJ Prum ,Willi Schafer and Karl Erbes.

The family vineyard holdings include:

Ürziger Würzgarten: made up of red sandstone and slate soils produce wines with exotic, spicy aromas, tropical fruit flavors, and a mesmerizing earthiness.

Erdener Treppchen: across the Mosel river from the small town of Erden, this vineyard is known for its very steep slope. Treppchen (meaning little staircase in German) refers to the stone steps built into the hillside to help workers reach the vines. The vineyard is on a variety of iron-infused red, grey and clay slate soils.

Erdener Prälat: The iconic terroir of the Mosel. Gray and red slate soils are planted with original root-stock Riesling up to 100 years old, with perfect exposition to the sun.
